

AIACC – General terms

These terms govern your use of our AIACC application, the web address of which is www.aiacc.eu, so please read them carefully:

- 1) We tried to provide you with information about the functionality of aiacc on our website.
- 2) By purchasing and implementing aiacc, you will provide greater access to your website as the users with difficulties using the internet will be able to use your services.
- 3) By purchasing one aiacc license, you have the right to implement aiacc to one website or one digital content of the Buyer and the user of the service.
- 4) The purchased license is non-transferable to other entities or other sites, seeing as you have not purchased ownership rights, but only the right to use it with a time limitation.
- 5) You may not use the aiacc license for illegal content or content which violates certain rights, is illegal and not suitable for publication on the internet.
- 6) You may not use the aiacc service for commercial purposes other than those intended, and you undertake not to share or forward the aiacc or any part thereof to other entities in any way...
- 7) By installing the aiacc, website or other digital form of the licensee will become significantly more accessible according to WCAG standards.
- 8) Aiacc does not provide guarantees related to deadlines, availability and accuracy of the service.
- 9) If you notice non-functionality or other deficiency of a certain aiacc component, you must immediately send an email to the address: support@aiacc.eu
- 10) Aiacc renounces any responsibility for possible misuse or inadequate use of the code.
- 11) Aiacc retains the right to, in the case of misuse or inadequate use of the licence, cancel the service and notify competent authorities if necessary.
- 12) Aiacc does not guarantee that their code will function properly on every website. By using the code delivered by the aiacc, you agree to test its functionality during the test period and accept or decline the purchase.
- 13) Aiacc does not bear the responsibility for possible data loss, system downtime or other technical problems related to inadequate use of the code
- 14) By accepting these terms, you will be provided with the aiacc logo on your website with a number of features that are explained on the homepage.
- 15) Aiacc reserves the right to subsequently amend or edit these general terms.
- 16) The competent court in Zagreb has exclusive jurisdiction in case of possible disputes related to the use of aiacc.